A dark, moody photograph of a bull. The bull's head is replaced by a highly detailed, metallic mechanical construct that resembles a robotic bull or a cyborg. The mechanical head has two large, curved horns and a complex assembly of metal plates, gears, and mechanical components where the bull's brain and eye area would be. The rest of the bull's body is dark and textured, appearing to be made of leather or a similar material. The background is dark and hazy, with a bright beam of light coming from behind the bull, creating a dramatic silhouette and highlighting the mechanical features of its head.
